Expert Services for the BigID Data Intelligence Platform

Assessment, configuration and optimization of BigID data security, compliance, privacy and governance technology

Global companies often struggle to operationalize data functions including data governance, data privacy, data stewardship, data quality, data valuation and data monetization. The BigID Data Intelligence Platform provides a variety of features that enable organizations to better manage, protect and leverage its valuable enterprise data.

FTI Technology's global team of BigID certified professionals provides services to ensure BigID deployments are successful and achieves the organization's goals. Our team can configure BigID modules to support its key functions across privacy, governance, and security and specific functions, including Data Subject Rights Requests. The FTI Technology team works with the client to understand the data environment, data sources, and other technologies that will be integrated with BigID, as well as the client's end-to-end operational needs. Based on this assessment, our experts provide tailored services and customizations using proven methodologies, including:

- Technology advisement
- Module selection
- End-to-end platform implementation
- Custom workflows
- System integrations
- Bespoke system governance strategy

Through this process, FTI Technology organizes and operationalizes "the 5 C's" of client data - cataloging, categorizing, contextualizing, correlation, and classification. And as technology evolves, the FTI Technology team can advise on strategy, technology and processes that reduce risk around personal data and increases value.

Whether an organization has already purchased BigID and is looking to optimize the investment or is evaluating the tool and needs expert guidance, the FTI Technology team is focused on delivering expert services that streamline operations and achieves organizational goals.
